Client News

Firm client Nadya Okamoto was featured in the Wall Street Journal earlier this year: Influencers Make Money Posting About Their Lives. The Taxes Can Get Messy. In the article, Nadya discusses her upcoming summer wedding and the pitfalls of influencer write-offs during tax season. Nadya Okamoto is the co-Founder of August, a lifestyle period brand that makes the comfdest products. She is also the author of the book PERIOD POWER: A Manifesto for the Menstrual Movement. Outside of her work in the menstrual health space, Okamoto is also a social media creator with over 5 million followers across social platforms.

Ethel Cain's Coachella stage was "a graveyard of American industry" designed by firm client Oli Coleman. A long-time fan of Ethel Cain's music, Oli unpacks the performance environment in a conversation with Dazed. Oli is a spatial designer with a background in architecture and a passion for crafting immersive worlds at the intersection of art, architecture, and performance. The performance can be viewed on YouTube's Live at Coachella 2026.

Firm client Benji Travis hosted the invitation-only Seattle Creator Summit in April. The Summit focused on creating a high-impact environment for creators to connect, collaborate, and learn about the content strategies that are actually working right now. The summit featured an amazing dinner cooked by firm client Matt Broussard and guest speakers like our very own Anita Sharma, and also Sean Cannell (the #1 expert in YouTube strategy) and Dan Morton (producer of the wildly successful Deep Pocket Monster YT channel)!

IAPP Global Summit 2026 explored humanity's response to technology. Alongside other esteemed keynote speakers, including Prince Harry, was firm client Alyson Stoner. Alyson also hosted a book signing of their NYT Bestseller Semi-Well-Adjusted Despite Literally Everything at the event. Alyson is a long-time advocate for industry and policy reform centering on the protection of children in traditional and digital media. With multiple certifications and fifteen years of group facilitation experience, they have led and contributed to programming for the United Nations, the World Health Organization, LGBTQIA+ centers, and leading universities. Firm attorney Anthony Dionno attended the conference and was lucky enough to experience Alyson's keynote live!

Firm client Sidney Raz is being honored by the Congressional Dads Caucus with the 2026 Dad Ambassador Creator Award during the annual Father's Day Week of Action in Washington D.C. The award recognizes Sid's incredible ability to consistently create connections and conversations around family, men's health, and everyday life in a deeply human way. Sidney has over 6 million followers across social media and is the author of Life Hacks, Tips & Tricks, where you can find Sid's greatest tips, tricks, and life hacks to make cooking, chores, and life in general far more efficient. It's all stuff you wish someone had already told you, and now they have.

The Signal Awards recognize the podcasts that define culture. This year, Anita Sharma is on the judging panel for the 2026 season! Setting this standard of excellence is The Signal Awards Judging Academy, an esteemed collective made up of the architects, instigators and trailblazers of the medium. Once a year, The Academy collectively listens closely to thousands of hours of audio, and selects the strongest work to be elevated to the status of award-winning.
